A Note from Ms. Nelson

Dear 4th Grade Families,

We had a quick week, but it was jam packed with fun! Students got the chance to keep working on their puppets in Art, and started finishing their rock cycle comic strips. They also continued their projects on the Northwest Coast People, creating a collaborative Google Slides Presentation which they will share next week.

It was so nice getting the chance to meet with all of you for conferences to discuss your child's progress this year. I am so lucky to have such a wonderful class and wonderful families that make conferences so fun!

I am especially thankful for the gift of this school and classroom community this year. You have all made my first year here so special already, and I feel so blessed to be a part of such an incredible community.

Know of my prayers for you and your family always, and have a very Happy Thanksgiving!

Best,

Ms. Nelson

passport to Adventure

Need something to do over your Thanksgiving Break, besides enjoy the delicious treats and a break from school? Are you traveling somewhere fun in our state? Have your child add it to their Passport to Adventure!

Remember, Passport activities are not required, but encouraged, and will be included in the Washington State Project that they will turn in at the end of the year.

Mystery Readers

Every year as a countdown to Christmas, I do a Christmas Book "Advent Calendar" with my class. Each day, students get to unwrap and hear a different Christmas book. I would love to include some surprise "Mystery Readers," so they don't just have to listen to me every day - and that's where you come in! If you would like to be a surprise guest reader please email me and let me know what Christmas book you would like to read, and if there are any days in particular that work better for you to come in and read! If you cannot come in person, but would like to participate, you can also send me a video of you reading a story. Shhhh it's a surprise, so don't tell the kids it's coming!
