A Note from Ms. Nelson

Dear 4th Grade Families,

We have had a busy week in 4th grade! Students have already been hard at work on their Washington State Projects, and I am so glad they are having fun with all the pieces of the project. It was fun to take a little walk down memory lane and give them back their work from the beginning of the year!

Students also continued working on Canva to make posters to advertise the importance of switching to renewable energy sources, and they continued working on their Oregon Trail Narratives. In Reading, students completed their final project on the Tale of Despereaux, and celebrated all their hard work by watching the movie. We are all sad to leave the story behind and move into a new unit!

The final countdown to the auction is on! Please follow the links below to register or to volunteer in the days leading up to the big night! All helping hands are very appreciated!

Know of my prayers for you and your family always, and enjoy your weekend!

Best,

Ms. Nelson

WA State Project!

Students have completed their first Check-In for the WA State Project! They are off to a great start! Students now have their Button Blanket, Letter to a Government Official, WA Flip Map, and a picture of their salt dough map in their binders. Some of those pages require more decorations added to them, so they are not done with them entirely! The next due date is May 8th, when the first of their 2 choice activities is due.

They will have time in class on Wednesday, April 24th, and Wednesday May 1st to work on them.

Volunteer at the Auction!

Even if you cannot attend the auction, there are so many ways you can support the event before and during the weekend! Follow the link below to find ways you can help with the success of another incredible SMS auction!
