Week of March 4th

A Note from Ms. Nelson

Dear 4th Grade Families,

Could it be that spring has sprung?? I'm sure I've just jinxed us by writing that, but it has been so wonderful having some sunshine this week!

This week in Math we continued learning about fractions, practicing making equivalent fractions, and simplifying them as well. In Social Studies, we continued learning about the events that lead up to Westward Expansion, and in Religion we got to participate in a wonderful Lenten prayer service with Fr. Tony. Next week in Reading, we will finish The Tale of Despereaux - I don't know if they're ready to say goodbye to this book! They have been having so much fun with it!

There are always fun things happening in our classroom, so please take a moment to read next week's WAG for a peek ahead!

Know of my prayers for you and your family always, and enjoy your weekend!

Best,

Ms. Nelson

March Madness Readers

March Madness is (almost!) upon us! While I don't know much about basketball, I do know a lot about children's books! Starting March 18th, we will begin a March Madness Style Tournament of Children's Literature! Each day, we will read two different children's books, and the kids will vote on which book should "advance" to the next round and face a different competitor! This is where you come in! Much like we did during Advent with mystery readers, I would like to invite some of you to come in and share a story with us! You are welcome to bring your own book, or read a book from my library. If you are interested in reading, please reach out for more details!

Parent Education Night

Thank you so much to those of you who attended our Parent Education Night on Tuesday about Academic Excellence. If you were not able to attend, please take a moment to watch the recording and fill out the survey afterwards - we appreciate your feedback!
